Order Form

ISBN 978064692414 (pbk.)
442pp; full colour cover

Voices of the Northern Shore is a literary gazetteer of hundreds of poets and authors who have 'touched' the North Shore of Sydney. The book is arranged by suburb. Each entry contains some short biographical details of the writers, an excerpt from their work (particularly if it shows their connection to the North Shore) and a list of their published works.

Voices fills a void in the cultural history of Sydney. The Northern Shore is rich in writers from a wide range of genre. Not since the Oxford Literary Guide to Australia has there been a comprehensive attempt to capture the sense of place embodied in the works of many of our local writers.

Voices comprises:

- Over 440 pages
- Details of hundreds of Northern Shore writers
- Biographical details of authors
- Excerpt of work (particularly showing connection to the North Shore)
- List of published works of authors
- Indexed by suburb
- Cross-referenced by author name
- Covers Willoughby, North Sydney, Lane Cove, Mosman, Ryde, Hunters Hill and Kuring-gai Council areas

Terry Fogarty is a local Geographer/Historian. He lives in the centre of the North Shore at Chatswood in Sydney. Terry has a passion for local studies and literacy.
